

LIVINGSTON COUNTY
DEPARTMENT ANNUAL REPORT SUMMARY
REPORT FOR YEAR ENDING 2017

DEPARTMENT: County Historian

2017 PROGRAM SUMMARY:

It is a privilege to submit my 14th annual report as County Historian. As in years past, I crisscrossed the county to do numerous programs and provided advice, assistance, and historical information for several county departments, the town historians, historical societies, schools and other organizations. To further strengthen the role of local government historians and advocate the role of NYS and local history, I represented this office at several events at the regional and state level as Past- Executive Chair of the Government Historians of Western New York, as a member of the New York State Historical Records Advisory Board, and as a member of the New York History Advisory Group convened by the State Historian.

Every year has a distinct flavor and this year national politics took center stage. The frenetic news coming out of Washington was a daily distraction as I chronicled the ripple effect locally with regard to immigration issues, protests, and the “Me Too” movement. Ironically, my research focused on two significant historical anniversaries that changed the course of American history - the centennial of U. S. entry into World War 1 and the centennial of passage of woman’s suffrage in New York State. Several programs and exhibits helped to bring about awareness that indeed all history is local.

For WWI, the results of my research have more fully documented those who sacrificed on the battlefield and life on the home front. The honor roll of those who were killed in battle or died while in service from Livingston County rose from about 38 to well over 50 as I uncovered several facts that corrected some misinformation and helped to fill in wide gaps in the arrival holdings of this office. Likewise, bits and pieces on the role of women in Livingston County directly involved with the woman suffrage (and anti-suffrage) movement at the local, state and national level were expanded into a more comprehensive picture of their broad influence in the passage of the vote in New York State and the subsequent passage of the 19th amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

This office remains a hub of activity and I am thankful for my dedicated Deputy Historian Holly Watson. Holly assisted me with exhibits and programs, handled the multitude of research requests and undertook several large projects including digitization of thousands of documents (see her report attached). We continually get compliments for our quick responses to queries, informational website and our massive online search engine. In addition to an increase in online requests, visitation to the office also increased by 20% over 2016 with 50 % from locals, about 25 % from within NYS and the remainder from 12 states across the U.S. The office also benefited from the on-going commitment of volunteers Doreen DeCamp, Alberta Dunn and Mary Gremer whose combined efforts amounted to approximately 100 hours.

In these times of political upheaval and social change, the opportunity I’ve been given to record, analyze, and contextualize local history has never been more enlightening. Distinguishing fact from fiction takes patience and persistence and in my view essential to understanding who we are as a society. I am appreciative of the continuing support and encouragement of the County Administrator and Board of Supervisors. I look forward to 2018 with anticipation of maintaining high standards and expanding services to meet the ever-growing needs and curiosity of present and future generations.

I. Office Management, Collection Development

1. Preservation and expansion of historical records collection:

- a. Public Research Room: In 2017 approximately 150 people utilized the research room in addition to 392 requests for information were received via our online request form, phone, and email. The subject binders were routinely updated with references to current events from weekly newspapers and with documentary materials deemed to have permanent value for local history research.
- b. Expansion of the County Historian's Web page and Online resources:
 - i. Web page: Updates and resources were added throughout the year
The County Historian's Online Records Index: The search engine increased by over 21,500 entries in 2017 and now includes over 327,000 entries. Series additions in 2017 included:
 - a. 7613 additional church record entries*
 - b. 5803 additional ledger entries (includes marriages and school records)*
 - c. 1135 additional naturalization entries *
 - d. 6170 additional newspaper entries for births, deaths, marriages, and legal notices *
 - e. 300 additional veterans *
 - f. 507 obits from the current year newspapers
*see Deputy Historian Holly Watson's report attached for specific references.
 - ii. Archives and Manuscript Inventory, indexing and cataloging updates:
 - i. Newly acquired documents, manuscripts, etc. were continually accessioned, arranged, described, and appraised to determine long-term use and protection needs and then housed in archival quality storage containers and enclosures. Donations accepted included numerous archival documents, photographs, and scrapbooks related to people, places, and local historical events.
 - a. Digitization projects – Approximately 10,000 documents and photographs were digitized this past year. *see Deputy Historian Holly Watson's report.
 - ii. Volunteer projects
 - a. Doreen DeCamp – began labeling documents in the Archival Files series.
 - b. Albert Dunn – finished indexing several 19th and early 20th century school records.
 - c. Mary Gremer – processed approximately 12 cubic feet of county poorhouse vouchers and miscellaneous papers dating from 1923-1938.

II. Community Outreach and Advocacy

1. Town Historian meetings – Throughout the year this office provides guidance and support for the 17 town historians. Quarterly luncheon meetings were held at various locations around the county. All meetings were well attended with an average of 14 out of the 17 towns represented at each meeting in addition to office staff, volunteers, and guests. Due to scheduling, this is the first year we did not have a summer meeting.
 - April 11 – Livingston County Historian's Office luncheon
 - September 27 – County Government Center luncheon and attendance and individual recognitions of the town historians at the Board of Supervisor's meeting.
 - December 12 – Tom Wahl's for lunch and tour of the newly renovated Avon Inn

2. Special Projects

- a. Livingston Landmarks OnCell Audio Tour (Livingston.OnCell.com) this is 4th in a series of audio tours of historic sites in the county. The tour has 15 stops divided into three sections
 - 1) On the Main Drag - includes distinctive landmarks along state highways
 - 2) Around the Bend - includes several places just off the main drag a turn or two
 - 3) Off the Beaten Path - out of the way places that connect culture and the natural landscape.

- b. World War 1 Centennial – several commemorative events took place in 2017.

The Impact of WWI on Livingston County: Life on the Homefront – I presented a new power point program for the Mt. Morris Dam Winter Lecture Series in January. The program was also presented later in the year for the Big Springs Historical Society in Caledonia, the Springwater-Webster Crossings Historical Society, and the Ossian Historical Society.

Expressions of World War One in Photographs & Letters Home – I created an interpretive exhibit that opened at Livingston Arts in Mt. Morris in May then from September – November moved to the lobby of the County Government Center in Geneseo.

- c. NYS Woman’s Suffrage Centennial

The Female Perspective: Local Women in the Woman’s Suffrage Movement – a new power point program in the Female Perspective series was presented in March for Women’s History Month at Nunda Historical Society and in October for the York Historical Society at the town hall.

The Female Perspective: Livingston County Women who changed the status quo – this exhibit was on display May – October at the Livingston County Historical Society Museum.

- d. Livingston County Bicentennial - I convened an organizational planning committee meeting in October to brainstorm ideas to celebrate and commemorate the County’s upcoming bicentennial in 2021.

3. Other Meetings/Public Speaking/etc.

January 18 – met with Josh Williams at the Genesee Sun broadcast studio to discuss a video project to record Vietnam veterans involved in the Blue Devils in Vietnam book project. Two of three five minute videos were produced and posted on social media.

July 14th – attended the Woman’s Rights Conference Days lectures at Seneca Falls.

July 31 – Met with Dansville Mayor, downtown representatives, and Heather Grant to discuss project ideas and funding for an interpretive/interactive walking tour of Dansville’s Historic District.
